

Transparent protective overlays

Clear protective overlay films are engineered to provide UV protection of reflective traffic signs and are a critical piece to create a long-lasting TrafficJet™ printed sign. Avery Dennison offers a range of these films, including standard options and those with enhanced features. Select the protective overlay film that best suits your specific requirements.

Feature Protective Overlays

OL-1000 Anti-graffiti Overlay

Avery Dennison OL-1000 Anti-graffiti film is a clear protective layer engineered to shield surfaces from aerosol paints, markers, and stickers. When combined with TrafficJet, the OL-1000 film ensures an industry-leading sign durability of up to 15 years. This longevity makes it a sustainable choice, reducing the frequency of sign replacement.

OL-1200 Anti-dew Overlay

Avery Dennison OL-1200 prevents water droplets, like dew, from forming on finished signs, ensuring their retroreflectivity remains intact. By maintaining optimal visibility, the OL-1200 enhances safety and reliability. Designed to protect signs when dew is most prevalent, in high-humidity climates and temperatures slightly above 0°C (32°F).

Standard Clear Protective Overlays

OL-2000 Clear and OL-4000 Clear Overlay

Film designed exclusively to protect signs from UV rays, ensuring effective reflectivity and compliance with the standard and base color. Designed to be used as part of the integrated component system of Avery Dennison reflective films.
